Berry-flavored cocaine

Six arrests; investigation included a drug sting at a Southport, West Sacramento supermarket parking lot

A narcotics task force said it had arrested six people in connection with sales of cocaine flavored in such varieties as strawberry, coconut, vanilla, banana and chocolate. According to Commander Roy Giorgi of YONET, the Yolo Narcotics Enforcement Team, the trend of adding flavor to cocaine may be intended to target the product to young people.

The investigation included three undercover transactions arranged in West Sacramento and Stockton from alleged sellers Antonia Macias, 43, and Miguel Ochao, 25, who are both Stockton residents. The transactions entailed two ounces of strawberry-flavored cocaine in one case, a quarter pound of crystal methamphetamine in another, and a half pound of strawberry and coconut flavored cocaine in a third.

Investigators arranged a one-kilogram (2.2 pound) buy of cocaine from Macias and Ochoa on Thursday evening at about 9:45 p.m. at the Nugget supermarket parking lot in West Sacramento – arresting the pair after the sale. The suspects had passed over four plastic bags with a pinkish substance they said was strawberry cocaine, according to YONET.

Drugs, handgun & ammo seized in Stockton and in West Sacramento

Meanwhile, search warrants were served at two Stockton homes connected to the suspects. Four people were arrested leaving one of the homes just before the search. More cocaine, scales and packaging were found – as well as a loaded 9 millimeter semi-automatic handgun "which was in the armrest of the couch in the family room," said YONET.

All told, investigators report seizing three pounds of flavored cocaine, a quarter pound of crystal methamphetamine and the handgun.

Trio escape from Yolo jail

Three Yolo County Jail inmates escaped at about 10 p.m. on Thursday, but the sheriff's department said that two were back in custody the next morning.

Suspects Mark Luis Amacher, Jr., 28, Jose Enrique Torres, 35, and Alexander Joseph Roberts, 21, had been in custody "for various felony and misdemeanor charges ranging from bad checks, possession of controlled substances, burglary and violation of probation," said Sheriff"s Captain Robin Faille. Each was awaiting sentence, and none was charged with a violent offense.

The three broke a window and used a blanket to help get over a razor-wire fence, then went southbound. An off-duty deputy saw the three and called the department. Deputies, along with officers from neighboring jurisdictions, established a perimeter and started to search. Helicopters from the California Highway Patrol and Sacramento Sheriff's Department also helped – but the three were not found.

But at about 7:30 a.m. Friday, Woodland police received a call from a KB Homes employee who said he had found two people wearing jail clothing inside a home under construction a quarter-mile south of the jail. The two claimed to be painters.

Sheriff Ed Prieto was among those who responded to the scene – and another KB Homes employee pinpointed the location of the two suspects. Amacher was arrested without incident and then Torres was located in a vacant home and arrested.

Roberts is still missing. He is described as a white male, age 21, measuring 5' 9" tall, 150 pounds, with short shaved brown hair and brown eyes.

Anyone with information is asked to call the Sheriff's Department at (530) 668-5280.

Local congressman votes against war funding bill stripped of deadlines

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Congressman Mike Thompson, a Democrat whose district includes West Sacramento, voted "no" on a controversial Iraq emergency supplemental spending bill which was debated this month in the House of Representatives. The bill passed – stripped of "benchmarks" or a "timeline" for ending the Iraq war and withdrawing U.S. troops.

His office released a statement on why Thompson voted against the bill:

"I voted against the Iraq supplemental because it only furthers the president's open-ended war in Iraq," Thompson said. "In our fifth year at war, funding should go through the regular budgeting process. It's not an emergency at this stage, and if the Administration doesn't know after four years how to fund the war, we're in more trouble than we may think. Moreover, the Iraqi government needs to take responsibility for securing their country so we can bring our troops home as safely and quickly as possible."

Thompson added that the troops "have done a fantastic job" but "I've been opposed to this war since the beginning."

Suspect sought after woman shot in orchard

Yolo County sheriff's deputies are looking for a male suspect after a woman working in an orchard near Zamora was shot and killed at about 3 p.m. on Saturday.

The department said that the woman suffered a single gunshot wound after the man arrived and unsuccessfully tried to get her to leave with him. She was pronounced dead at the scene. Her identity wasn't immediately released.

The suspect is Ignacio Favela, 36, described as a Hispanic man about 5' 8" tall, 190 pounds, with short brown hair and a light moustache. He fled the area in a 1992 white Mercury Grand Marque with a beige and white top, license number 4WGH674.

Anyone with information is asked to call (530) 668-5280.

ARSON SUSPECT –

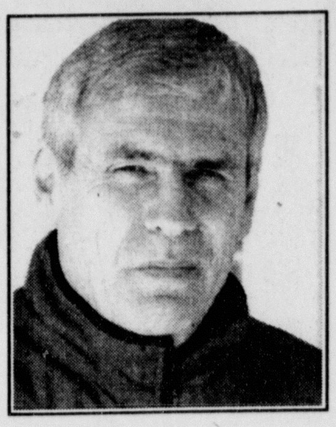
The Yolo County Grand Jury has indicted a Guinda man on 18 felony counts of arson for allegedly starting "numerous" grass fires in the Capay Valley area from July to October of 2006, reports Yolo District Attorney Jeff Reisig.

If convicted, Eason could face over 50 years in prison and could be ordered to pay restitution up to $50,000 per offense.

Eason was scheduled to be arraigned in Yolo Superior Court on Friday.

Iraq war hits one local family hard

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

As anyone who reads this column regularly knows, I have long thought that deciding to go to war in Iraq was the worst foreign policy decision ever made by a president of the United States. And now, as we find ourselves in year five of this tragic mess, politicians from both parties finally seem to be taking baby-steps to end it. Unfortunately, those baby-steps often have more to do with self-serving speeches and votes in Congress than they do with meaningful actions that will actually get our kids out of harm's way. In fact, in the summer months to come, even more American soldiers and Marines are scheduled to be sent off to Iraq as part of President Bush's so-called new surge strategy, and for many of them, it will be their second, third, or even fourth tour of duty there, which brings me to my story.

I was out walking the other night when I ran into Dave Blake, a longtime West Sacramento resident and local businessman who has been a friend of mine for ages. We first met way back when our sons were young and I was serving a two-year sentence as president of the West Sacramento Little League. At the time, I was in desperate need of volunteers to help get the baseball diamonds in decent playing condition, and Dave was the first to raise his hand. I soon learned that if there was hard work to be done -- the kind that requires rolling up one's sleeves and not complaining -- Dave was the first person to ask. I also quickly learned that if Dave ever has something on his mind that is bothering him, people are definitely going to hear about it, and he's not going to mince his words.

So, I wasn't surprised the other night when Dave suddenly called out, "Hey, Daryl, I've got something I want to put in that newspaper of yours."

"Sure, Dave, what is it?"

"I think I'm going to write one of those letters to the editor. Will you put it in the paper?"

"Sure. What's it going to be about?"

"About what just happened to my son, Carl."

"What happened?"

"Well, like you know, after Carl graduated from River City High School, he joined the Marines. His mother and I weren't exactly thrilled about it at the time, but it was what he wanted to do and we supported him. He ended up being sent to Iraq and you can't imagine what it's like waking up every single day to watch the news only to hear that more American soldiers have died while you were asleep. Anyway, he made it home safely, and when his five years in the Marines were up, he got married, bought himself a house, and he and his wife now have a beautiful little girl."

"Hey, congratulations on being a grandfather!"

"Thanks," he said, smiling for the first time since our conversation had begun.

"Anyway, Carl and all of us thought that now that he was out of the Marines, he could start his civilian life and everything was going to be fine, but just the other month, he was notified by the government that he needed to fly back to Missouri for an interview to see if he was eligible for being put back in the military because they needed more troops in Iraq. We knew there was something in his enlistment contract that said he could be called back to duty for a national emergency or something, but since he had been home for 19 months and started a whole new life, we figured that would all be taken into consideration in the interview and he wouldn't have to go. Well, it turns out that if you have two good arms and two good legs, they want you to go back to Iraq. They didn't care at all that he has a new baby girl, or that he might not be able to make his house payment, or that his entire life is going to have to be put on hold again. The whole interview only took a couple of hours and they told him to go back home, settle all his affairs, and be ready to report for duty on October 9th."

"You know," I said, "I think one of the worst things about this war is how it's been put entirely on the shoulders of our soldiers and their families. No one else has been asked to sacrifice a thing, and maybe that is one of the reasons why it just continues to go on and on."

"I wasn't against this war in the beginning," explained Dave. "I'm a very patriotic American, but this country wasn't told the whole truth about why we were going to war and in many ways I feel I have been lied to. I want to fight terrorism as much as anyone, but this war was a war of choice, and it was the wrong choice, and we need to end it before more American kids have to die."

At the end of our conversation, I asked Dave if I could use some of what he had just told me in one of my future columns, since I try to write about the war in Iraq from time to time. I also warned him that there are still strong supporters of the war out there, and that they don't always appreciate reading negative comments about it.

"Well," said Dave as only Dave can, "if someone calls you and tells you they didn't like some of the things I said, you just tell them to go home and pack the clothes of their own kid and send him or her off to fight in this stupid war!"

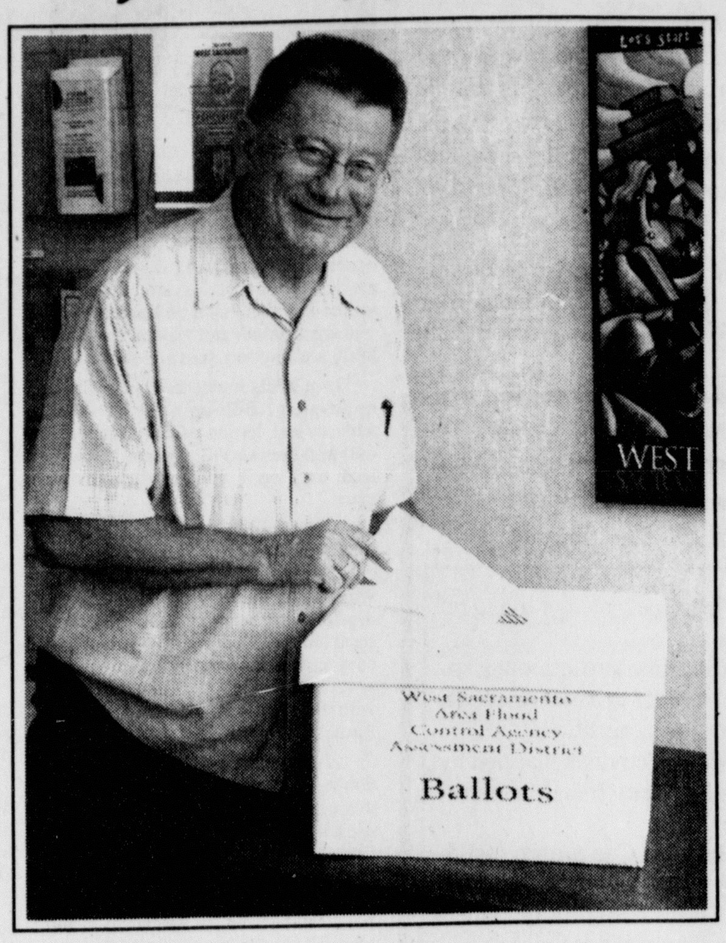
McGowan: in favor of flood tax

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor



Michael McGowan was one of the first couple of dozen West Sacramento landowners to cast his ballot on a proposed new flood control assessment.

McGowan, a Yolo County Supervisor and resident of Park Boulevard in West Sacramento, stopped by city hall to drop off his ballot on Friday. He volunteered a statement on his position on the issue:

"It's something we need to do to protect our good community," he said. "I'm getting my 'yes' vote in early so it can be counted."

Both commercial and residential property owners are eligible to vote on the measure, with their votes and assessments weighted by the type of land use, size of the building and estimated flood threat to their area.

For many homeowners, the proposed assessment will be around $100 to $200 per year.

The measure, which needs 50 percent approval from the weighted voting, is intended to raise over $40 million and help pay the "local share" of over $400 million in planned levee improvements.

A public forum on the proposed assessment is planned for 6:30 p.m. on June 5 at city hall, 1110 West Capitol Avenue. Ballots are due by July 10.

The Garden Bug

I have often thought that if heaven had given me choice of my position and calling, it should have been on a rich spot of earth, well watered, and near a good market for the productions of the garden. No occupation is so delightful to me as the culture of the earth... the failure of one thing repaired by the success of another, and instead of one harvest, a continued one thro' the year... tho' an old man, I am but a young gardener.

— Thomas Jefferson, in a letter to Charles Willson Peale

Now here's a tip!

by Jo Ann Derson

• How long do tennis shoes last? You can keep them smelling nice with baking soda or charcoal briquettes, but after about 500 miles of wear, the materials start to break down. If they are just your walking-around shoes, you can stretch that a bit longer, but if you are a runner and rely on their stability and support, toss and replace.

• Have white linens that need a little brightening? Boil up a pot of water, add several lemon slices (squeezed out) and then add the linens. Allow to soak until cool, and then launder as usual.

• "I replaced my washcloths, since they were starting to break down, but I cut them in half and now use them to wipe down the mirror and sink after brushing my teeth or when my husband shaves. They are convenient and easy to use, make the bathroom cleaner and can be popped into the wash with the other towels." — R.I. in California

• "If you have small children, you no doubt have many small plastic toys that could use a little cleaning. If you use a mesh laundry bag made for delicates, you can put those pieces right in your dishwasher, in most cases. This works especially well for bath toys, but it can be used for Barbie dolls and other all-plastic items, too. Make sure you put the bag on the top rack only!" — A.J. in Florida

• "I have always found it hard to fold fitted sheets. They used to end up in a terrible ball, stuffed in the linen closet. Then my roommate showed me how she folds hers: Put them on the bed first. Then take one side over to the other, and fold. I even fold the fitted and flat sheets together, and stuff the whole square into a pillowcase. It's much neater this way." — M.G. in Washington

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• Mel Blanc, perhaps best known to the world as the voice of Bugs Bunny, died in 1989 and was buried in Hollywood Memorial Park. Care to guess what words are engraved on his tombstone? It says, "That's all, folks!"

• Talk about your good luck: On Alaska's Kenai Peninsula, Ed Martin found more than 1,000 four-leaf clovers on a single day in 2006.

• It was English novelist, critic, screenwriter and composer Anthony Burgess — best known, perhaps, for "A Clockwork Orange," which was made into a movie by director Stanley Kubrick — who made the following sage observation: "Reality is what I see, not what you see."

• Next time someone tells you to eat your veggies, you might want to consider this: Ancient Egyptians considered arugula to be an aphrodisiac, and the early Chinese recommended asparagus for the same purpose.

• The 1950s hit "Runaround Sue," by Dion and the Belmonts, was written about a real girl — but her name was Dolores.

• Those who study such things say that the best-selling Girl Scout cookie of all time is the Thin Mint, followed by Samoas (also known as Caramel DeLites) and Peanut Butter Patties.

• In some parts of Alaska, Eskimo ice cream is considered to be quite a treat. That may not seem too odd — after all, who doesn't like ice cream? Consider the recipe, though: caribou fat, seal oil, flaked boiled fish and berries whipped with snow. Mmmmmm, tasty.

• William Howard Taft served only one term as president of the United States, but he was a busy man, nonetheless. He served as tax collector, solicitor general, governor of the Philippine Islands, secretary of war and chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, too.

Fast Dog, Slow Dog

Q. I have two dogs, "Sissy" and "Bunny," both chocolate Labs. Sissy is very energetic, while Bunny, a couple of years older, is more laid-back. She is also overweight. To help Bunny lose weight and to burn off some of Sissy's energy, I have tried to take them jogging with me each morning. But it's a struggle — Bunny quickly slows to a walk while Sissy tugs the leash. I'm getting my arms pulled off and no jogging done. How can I resolve this? I have no time to exercise the dogs except early morning. — Kelly H., Chestnut Hill, Mass.

A. You will probably have to sacrifice the morning jog for a little while as you train Sissy and acclimate Bunny to the new exercise regimen. This means slowing to a brisk walk for a few weeks and choosing a shorter distance so that Bunny can keep up and doesn't get exhausted.

Each week, add another block or two to the walking route. Monitor Bunny's condition as you walk: Like a human, a dog needs to be fairly comfortable during exercise, not limping, lagging or panting excessively. With reasonable — not exhausting — exercise, Bunny will get in better shape much more quickly.

Sissy, in the meantime, will still be impatiently tugging at the leash as you walk. Don't allow this — use the walk session as training time for both dogs to heel at your command. However, to help Sissy burn off that excess energy, consider ending your walk or setting the turnaround point at a park or safe open area. Let Sissy off the leash to run and play fetch while Bunny rests.

Doing this consistently should improve Sissy's behavior on the leash, as there is a free run at the end of the walk. In addition, as Bunny's fitness level improves, she may want to join Sissy.

When both dogs are accustomed to the morning walk, increase the speed to a light jog. Both should adapt to the pace much more easily.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A heads-up alert to all free-spirited Ewes and Rams: Be wary of a deal that could result in compromising your independence. Check every detail before making a commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New facts emerge that help put an irksome workplace situation in perspective. Meanwhile, pay more attention to a family member who needs your wisdom and strength.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A slight setback in plans is nothing to worry about. Use this delay to deal with a number of matters you might have ignored for too long. Expect news from someone in your past.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're entering a period of stability. Use it to straighten out any outstanding problems related to a very personal situation. Also, pay closer attention to financial matters.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) As much as you love being a social Lion, you might well benefit from staying out of the spotlight for a while. You need time to reflect on some upcoming decisions.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A difficult family situation improves, thanks to your timely intervention. You can now start to focus more of your attention on preparing for a possible career change.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An on-the-job change works to your benefit by offering new opportunities. It's up to you to check them out. Meanwhile, a stalled romantic situation starts up again.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That flare-up of Scorpian temperament cools down, leaving you more receptive to suggestions about changes that might need to be made in your personal life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unusual period of indecisiveness is a mite frustrating. But things soon clear up, allowing the sage Sagittarian to make those wise pronouncements again.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel that you know best, but it's not a good idea at this time to try to force your opinions on others. Best advice: Inspire change by example, not by intimidation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some setbacks could affect your plans to fortify your financial situation. But things start moving again by early next week. Meanwhile, enjoy your resurgent social life.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Show that often-hidden steely spine of yours as you once again stand up to an emotional bully. You've got the strength to do it, especially as friends rally to your side.

The humpback whale mother and calf who visited West Sacramento two weeks ago were last reported near Benicia, roughly two-thirds of the way back to the Golden Gate Bridge. The species migrates north to Alaska during the spring.

Researchers say the whales' progress back towards saltwater is sporadic, with periodic retreats.

Each of the whales suffers from a boat propeller wound, and scientists have shot them with antibiotics. Their general health still appears mostly good.

Water Works System Is Being Installed in Westgate To Furnish Every Home in the District

Under the direction of the West Sacramento Company a six-inch pump is being installed over the well that was lately dug to a depth of 800 feet.

This is the initial step in furnishing a big supply of water to every home and every factory in the district.

The pump is a product of the Layne & Bowler factory and is capable of pumping 800 gallons of water a minute.

The system will consist of a high pressure tank that will give a pressure of forty pounds per square inch all the time. No storage tank will be used because the plant is so constructed that in case of necessity the pressure can be increased to sixty pounds per square inch.

Immediately following the installation of the pump and motor the work of clearing out the well will be started so that when the mains are laid to every section of the district an absolutely clear supply of very good water will be available to residents and home owners of the district.

The Westgate Realty Company and McAnulty Brothers estimate that this pump will be capable of supplying the district with all necessary water for several years to come.

The pump is of the automatic type, allowing it to maintain a regular pressure all the time.

The Pacific Gas & Electric Company has a force of men now extending the power line to the pump and a contract has been let to lay the water mains on every street of the district.

APPRAISERS APPOINTED FOR STATE HIGHWAY RIGHTS OF WAY

George Artz, Ben Leonard and J. C. Carly have been appointed by the state highway commission to appraise rights of way for the highway that is about to be built from the state highway in West Sacramento to the M street bridge.

This portion of the state highway will connect with the finished road in West Sacramento and will run through a new subway that is about to be built under the Sacramento Northern embankment at a point about five hundred feet west of the present subway. From the new subway it will run easterly along the Sacramento Northern right of way, taking parts of the Lowrence, Marty and O'Connor and Harbinson properties.

The right of way over the land owned by the West Sacramento Company south of the embankment is the first to be appraised. The appraisal on the others will come later.

The borrow pit which is north of the railroad embankment will be filled and on top of the fill the roadway will be built.

The northern side of the road will be 160 feet from the center of the embankment.

The property owners affected by the road for rights of way have given the state highway commission their figures but nothing has yet been heard from the commission.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF PROHIBITION SURRENDERS TO THE GRIM REAPER

James Fitzgerald, a young man about thirty-five years of age, was found by Constable Wilson last Monday afternoon in the jungles south of the M street bridge a victom of denatured alcohol.

It seems that Fitzgerald came from San Francisco looking for work in the farms of the Sacramento Valley. Failing to land a job, he sought consolation with men of his kind in cheap intoxicants and after consuming too much of the denatured alcohol purchased in drug stores he wandered across the river from Sacramento to get out of the way of the police.

How long he had lain on the river slope of the levee it is not known for when Constable Wilson found the remains they had been covered with an old blanket by his companions.

Coroner Ross Wilson of Woodland took the remains to Woodland and a jury rendered a verdict of "death from alcoholism."

Fitzgerald's parents were notified in San Francisco and took the remains for burial to their home.

The father is a retired member of the San Francisco fire department and the other children of the family are deeply grieved at the death of a wayward young man.

MRS. T. G. SCHMEISER GRANTED DIVORCE

Woodland, June 18.—Superior Judge W. A. Anderson has granted Mrs. T. G. Schmeiser of Davis an interlocutory decree of divorce upon the evidence introduced by her substantiating a sensational complaint. Schmeiser did not appear in court. The case was uncontested, with Grant and Bailey representing Mrs. Schmeiser.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered five feet ten inches, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. This is a reduction of about two feet since last week's report and is an indication that from now on low water can be expected in the river.

From the California Crop Reporting Service word comes that gives a tone of encouragement to farmers of this district in the following:

Pasture—The June 1 condition of pasture in California was 99 per cent of a normal as compared with 97 one month ago; 55 on June 1 last year and a 10-year average of 82.

Alfalfa—A slight increase is indicated in the acreage of alfalfa this year when compared with 1924. A preliminary estimate shows 1,021,000 acres—an increase of 20,000 acres the past year. The condition is estimated to be 100 per cent, or a normal crop. This may be compared with 88 per cent of a normal in 1924 and a 10-year average of 92. There was some injury to alfalfa in the swath or shock from the May rains, but quality alone was affected. The rains practically had no influence on the production.

Miss C. I. Romack, graduate of a business college of Sacramento, has been added to the office force of McAnulty Brothers in Westgate. Miss Romack has not been employed steadily but as a substitute for Mrs. Newman, who at the present time is recuperating from the affects of an operation for appendicitis which she underwent in a Sacramento hospital. Mrs. Newman is expected to return to her desk some day next week.

Victor M. Brown, owner of the Brown Cabinet Works in Westgate, met with a serious accident last Tuesday when he suffered the loss of the thumb of his right hand in the planing mill of his shop. Temporarily he is laid up and under the care of a surgeon but is able to superintend the work in the factory. At this writing the cabinet shop is extremely busy owing to the great demand made on it for mill work by the Westgate Realty Company.

McNally & Partridge, at the West Side Auto Camp, installed the fifth gasoline pump on their premises during the past week and are now prepared to offer the best service to their patrons. They carry on hand at all times the products of the five principal gas producers in this section of the state: Shell, Standard, General, Richfield and Union.

Joe Pereira reports that at the West Sacramento Auto Camp business conditions are improving to such an extent that he is forced to turn away patrons every night. Travel by automobile has increased to such an extent that it seems the long lines of autos now touring the highways are simply out on vacation trips.

Before Judge Barry last Wednesday Louis Fat and Lem Shire, two Chinese, appeared after being arrested by C. Hanson and Ed. Cassidy, agents of the State Board of Pharmacy. They were accused of being in possession of a small quantity of opium and pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Barry promptly assessed them a fine of $50 each, which was as promptly paid. Judge Barry cautioned them, however, that if they appeared in his court again on a similar complaint they would not get off so lightly.

On the same day, Wednesday, John Rayon was arrested by Sheriff Monroe on a charge of vagrancy. He had been hanging around with the Chinese at a point south of the M street bridge and had been repeatedly told by Sheriff Monroe to keep out of there but failed to do so. Judge Barry sent him to Woodland for a period of thirty days to rest up.

Miss Helen Dassonville went to San Francisco yesterday morning to spend a few days with relatives.

Afflicted with tuberculosis, Frank LaChance was taken up yesterday forenoon by Constable Wilson in the jungles south of the M street bridge and taken to Woodland for treatment. The man had been indulging in canned heat and going without having the proper food, his system became so run down that he became a victim of tuberculosis. He had been noticed in the vicinity during the past week but developed a serious sickness yesterday before Constable Wilson was called to take care of him.

Mrs. F. De Riso, Sr., and Mrs. R. Eagan left last Wednesday evening for Salt Lake where they expect to spend a few days with friends and relatives.

Near Kiesel Station yesterday Constable Wilson found a Harley-Davidson motorcycle which had been wrecked to a great extent. One wheel was badly mashed, apparently by coming in contact with an automobile or other vehicle. The motorcycle was registered under the name of H. B. Owen of Oroville, the legal owner being G. A. Hollowell, also of Oroville. The license number was Cal-4-782. Constable Wilson has notified the Oroville authorities to get in touch with the owner.

Near the southern end of the West Sacramento district yesterday Constable Wilson found a Chevrolet automobile partly wrecked. It bore the license Cal-604-028 and was registered under the name of G. A. Johnson, Hammonton, Calif. Constable Wilson ascertained yesterday afternoon from the authorities that this car was stolen in Marysville on Wednesday night about 8 p. m. Evidently the thief intended to go south along the river and sell the car or dispose of it in some way, but at the point mentioned it collided with a pile of lumber that is being used by Percy Hart in making repairs to a dredger. Constable Wilson has notified the authorities in Marysville that the car is at their disposal.

After spending the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Manchester, Blair Manchester has returned to Oakland.

Miss Ardella Manchester left Tuesday for Tres Pines to spend a two weeks' vacation with relatives.

Mrs. Hollis Simmons of Colusa returned home after a visit at the home of Mrs. Hattie Stewart.

Mrs. Della Knight, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Celia Hart, returned to Oakland Saturday

Thomas Enright returned home on Saturday from a week's visit at Lake Tahoe.

At the Washington grammar school picnic held Thursday the teachers presented Mrs. I. K. Manchester with a gold fountain pen in appreciation of her efforts as school trustee.

W. J. LEINBERGER ESTATE IS NOW BEING SETTLED

On June 15 there was filed for record in Woodland the following transcript:

William J. Leinberger deceased. To Gus Goldberg an und. ½ int. in Sacramento property and also lot 10s and 11, block 6, and an und. ½ int. in and to lot 8 of Riverbank. To Walter J. Leinberger an und. ½ interest in and to that certain property situated in the town of Washington, known as the Slaughter House Property. Also personal property to other persons.

This would indicate that the estate of the late W. J. Leinberger is being settled and that his real estate holdings are being divided according to the will filed following his death about eight months ago.

The business of slaughtering is still being conducted by Walter J. Leinberger, his nephew, to whom he deeded one-half of the property now occupied by the slaughter house.

The constant and enduring friendship that existed between W. J. Leinberger and Gus Goldberg was never ended until death parted them.

Congratulations!

As the school year comes to an end we would like to congratulate not only the entire staff at Westmore Oaks Elementary School but also say thank you to all the students, parents, and our great community. Our school once again was awarded the Title 1 Academic Achievement Award. This much sought- after recognition was given to only 476 schools throughout the entire State of California. Out of 5,000 schools in California we are one of only 14 schools that has received this prestigious award five consecutive times.

The California Department of Education notified Westmore Oaks Elementary School in March 2007 that we had made all of the rigorous requirements as described by law: For at least two consecutive years, we made Adequate Yearly Progress as defined by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001; for at least two consecutive years, we have doubled the Academic Index (API) growth target for the total school population as well as the socio-economically disadvantaged subgroup of students in our school; and we have attained or exceeded the 2006 API median growth score assigned to the elementary, middle, and/or high school grade spans. We were awarded for each of these outstanding accomplishments.

In addition to being a Title 1 Academic Achieving School, Westmore Oaks Elementary School is also a National Blue Ribbon School and a California Distinguished School.

Once again, congratulations to all our students, fellow colleagues, support staff, and the caring community of West Sacramento!

Gang injunction thoughts

Back at the beginning of this month, I submitted the following observations. However, our illustrious editor rightly sought to protect you from my insensitive use of Twain-like language. I did send a copy to one of our city councilpeople, but the problem mentioned still remains. Expurgated revision follows: My, my. What a target-rich environment [that] week's edition was. My Karnak-like prognostication of a few years ago, that we'd be seeing Cabaldon's grinning visage any and everywhere he could find a camera, seems to be in no danger of being proved inaccurate. But, and more immediately, it seems that my neighborhood of Bryte, which abuts Broderick, and in which I've only lived since mid-January, 1986, is undergoing a bit of an image problem. That, of course, would be the self-described (not so-called) Broderick Boys; an, ah, loosely affiliated fraternal organization, descended from the group called, I believe, Brown Pride, from back in the day. Back in the end of the country I'm from, even Don Vito gave to the church, the alderman, the mayor, assemblyman, senator, governor, ad nauseam. His associates were always innocent and, of course, every mother's son was a good boy. East Coast, West Coast, it's still true: "The more things change, the more they stay the same".

If the district attorney truly believes in his injunction, then he'll take it beyond the court of appeals decision -- one way or another. Oh, yes, one could always use tit-for-tat documentaryanism to record Rodney King-style videos. After all, honesty about what's really going on works both ways.

The idea of getting our police out of their wheeled cubicles is a good one as well. I recently had to ask an office to walk across the street from where he was parked, to see the hobo camp behind the old black church (a quonset hut) on Lisbon and then had to encourage him to walk behind said church property to the vacant lot beyond, where he interviewed someone then left. The camp is still there.

GUEST COMMENTARY:

Save funding for adult protective services

By Mariko Yamada, Chair
Yolo County Board of Supervisors

MARIKO YAMADA
Chair,
Yolo County Board of Supervisors
(representing part of Davis)

Anna and Joe were high school sweethearts. Joe went to work in his family orchard and Anna worked in the business as well. After forty years Joe was ready to retire and enjoy the golden years with Anna. One day, Anna and Joe saw an advertisement in the paper for an estate planning seminar at a local hotel. Wanting to protect their assets for their children and grandchildren they decided to go. After a one-hour presentation, Joe was sold! The couple trustingly provided information concerning their assets and financial planning needs and was told that an estate manager would follow up shortly. Several weeks went by and no one called. As Anna and Joe were unable to reach anyone by phone they resolved to look into the matter after their vacation.

To their surprise, Anna and Joe were greeted upon their return from vacation to a pile of notices from creditors and vendors, and a letter from the county recorder informing them a lien had been placed on their home. Shocked, they started making phone calls to find out what had happened. Sadly, Anna and Joe discovered that the cunning "estate planner" had taken the information they had provided in order to steal their identities and run up debts.[1]

This all-too-familiar scenario plays out around the country on a daily basis. The County Welfare Directors Association of California (CWDA) estimates that in California, an elder is the victim of financial abuse every ten seconds. Elders who have accumulated assets are most at risk for being targeted by financial predators. Between the years 2000 and 2006, statewide cases of elder financial abuse increased by 56 percent. The result of financial abuse can leave victims emotionally shattered, financially destitute and subsequently reliant on taxpayer-supported programs. Financial abuse is many times coupled with other types of abuse such as neglect, physical and mental suffering, isolation, abduction and even abandonment, thus making the need for cohesive and collaborative services even more critical.

Adult Protective Services (APS) programs throughout the state are mandated to provide investigations into allegations of abuse and neglect. They do so by operating 24-hour hotlines for response to reports and to conduct comprehensive, short-term case management, referral and coordination with community agencies to protect victims and promote their safety and well-being. APS programs serve as a vital safety net for thousands of California's abused and neglected elders and dependent adults by providing these services. In Yolo County alone, APS responded to 396 cases in 2006.

According to CWDA, the number of overall reports to Adult Protective Services agencies of abuse and neglect increased 34% between 2000 and 2006. Despite this sharp increase in reported cases, state funding for APS has remained static at $50.2 million since 2001 – and this at a time when the tidal wave of aging boomers places even greater demands on local government services. The result? An erosion of existing services as the number of abuse reports grows. Inadequate funding forces APS programs to triage cases based on imminent danger, and to close cases prematurely in order to investigate new reports. As a result, elders and dependent adults are increasingly and unnecessarily put at risk. With adequate funding, we can prevent the high personal cost of these devastating effects of elder abuse, and the societal price paid in the form of higher costs for health care, and unnecessary institutionalization care

Please contact the Chair of the Assembly Budget Committee, Assemblymember John Laird at (916) 319-2027 or assemblymember.laird@assembly.ca.gov and the Chair of the Senate Budget Committee, Senator Denise Ducheny at (916) 651-4040 or senator.ducheny@sen.ca.gov to urge support for additional state funding of $20 million for local APS programs so that all victims of elder and dependent adult abuse can receive timely services and comprehensive support to allow them to age safely, in their own homes, and with dignity.

GO FIGURE! by Linda Thistle

CRITIC'S CORNER
By D.N.A Smith

"Fracture"

Running time: 113 minutes
MPAA rating: R

Anthony Hopkins and Ryan Gosling play a deadly game of cat-and-mouse in the engaging mystery thriller "Fracture," a surprisingly smart and well-crafted film.

Gosling plays Willy Beachum, an ambitious young lawyer with the LA district attorney's office. Willy has a 97 percent conviction rate — due in part to his passing off losing cases onto his fellow lawyers. He's leaving the DA's office and taking a job with a corporate firm that will provide him with a much better lifestyle.

With only a week left at the DA, a no-brainer of a case is tossed onto his lap. A man is arrested for shooting his wife in the face and putting her into a coma. He has confessed to the crime. All Willy needs to do is attend the arraignment, let the man plead guilty and let the wheels of justice take its course.

There's just one little hitch. The husband, Ted Crawford (Hopkins), is a lot more clever than he appears. Before Willy knows it, he's in over his head because Ted has done his research and planned on Willy being unprepared. Within a matter of minutes, Willy's career and future plans crumble around him.

What's great about "Fracture" is that it's set up like an old episode of "Columbo." At the beginning of the film, we see Hopkins plan and execute the crime, then watch him cover his tracks. Everything is laid out in front of us. And when the ending comes, you sit there going, "How did I miss that?"

Hopkins does a great job with Ted Crawford. He is a horrible man, and you really do want to see him get his come-uppance. Gosling does a pretty good job, but I really would have liked a much stronger screen presence alongside Hopkins. Still, Gosling's performance is good enough to make "Fracture" a fun evening at the theater.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Marion Meyer in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Marion Meyer be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

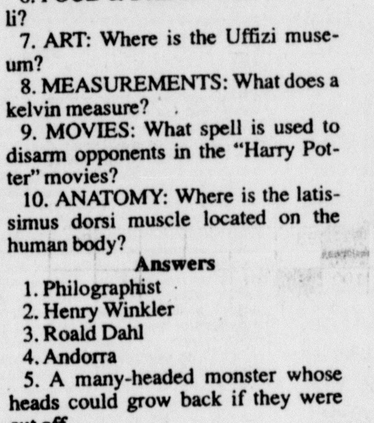
Fave Foods OF THE FAMOUS
by Steven Austin



Tommy Johnson Jr. and Melanie Troxel

As "The World's Fastest Couple," Tommy Johnson Jr. and his wife, Melanie Troxel, burn up the pavement as top drivers on the National Hot Rod Association (NHRA) circuit. Johnson was born to drag race. The Iowa native's father, Tommy Johnson Sr., is a racing legend. Johnson Jr. drives the SKOAL Chevy Monte Carlo for legendary Snake Racing Team owner Don Prudhomme. Troxel also comes from a racing family. Her father, Mike, is a hot rod veteran, and her mom was an airplane mechanic. When other girls were growing up playing with dolls, Troxel was building engines! For more info about this high-speed couple: www.nhra.com

OK, who's faster in the kitchen, and what are the specialties of the house?

Tommy: "I am probably faster. I don't get as elaborate as Melanie does. I'm from Iowa and am more of a basic 'meat and potatoes' guy, while she is into fancy recipes and spices. She definitely gets me to eat healthier. I was used to just throwing a pizza in the oven. The one specialty I personally make is ham and cheese sandwiches. I make them at home and in the motorhome on the way to races. My favorite meal, on special request, is the Audrey Sandwich." (See recipe below.)

Melanie: "By healthier, it's splurging when you want something and not eating extra calories, and using healthier ingredients like olive oil. Both sides of our family love Mexican food. I would say that is one of our specialties, either home cooked or dining out."

I'm almost embarrassed to ask, but what are your fave fast foods? Ever wish you could take one of your Top Fuel machines to the 'drive thru'?

Tommy: "There are a lot of imitators, but there is only one 'In-N-Out Burger.' I do wish we could take our cars through there so we could get back to the track on time. I get hungry at the drop of a dime. Those drive-thrus are WAY too slow!"

Melanie: "He gets very impatient."

In such a dangerous sport, do either of you have any lucky foods, drinks or eating rituals?

Tommy: "I wouldn't say that I have any lucky foods, but I do have a bad habit on race days of eating lots of peanut M&Ms. I eat those all the time. Maybe I'll have a banana or two for energy, but I usually don't like to eat on race days. I don't think the food will settle well with the adrenaline and nerves."

Melanie: "I try to eat something healthy in the morning to get going. I'm so pumped up during the day and the nerves kick in, you have to try and eat something good early."

Does the super-fast pace of your sport spill over into other aspects of your life? That is, do you have the patience to sit down and enjoy a long, fancy meal?

Tommy: "I definitely struggle being able to sit down for a long meal. When we travel together, we try to go the fancy route. When we're on the road, I don't like stopping until we're at the track. Melanie is always trying to get me to stop, sit down and have a normal meal."

Melanie: "I don't think it spills over too much. We like to have a normal life when we can. I definitely have the patience for long, elaborate meals."

THE AUDREY SANDWICH

1 to 1 1/2 pounds lean ground beef
8 ounces cream cheese
8 ounces sour cream
1 medium onion, chopped
1 box frozen chopped broccoli
4 ounces shredded mozzarella cheese
4 ounces shredded cheddar cheese
2 large packages croissant rolls
Salt, black pepper, garlic powder

Cook broccoli according to package directions, drain and set aside. Brown beef with onion and season to taste with salt, pepper and garlic. Drain off fat. Keeping beef warm, add cream cheese and sour cream. Mix in broccoli.

Open croissant tubes and pinch together 2 triangles to form a rectangle. You can use a rolling pin to make the rectangle a little larger. Place 3-4 tablespoons of mixture along center of dough. Top with a large pinch of each cheese. Bring ends of rectangle together and pinch to seal edges. Do the same with outside edges to seal completely. Turn seam side down on foil-covered cookie sheet and bake at 325 F for 15 to 20 minutes or until evenly browned.
